IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

In view of the fact that the war revenue bill provides for a bonus of $60 to all discharged men, the House conferees receded from their amendment granting officers and enlisted men one month's pay upon their discharge.

An agreement has been reached by House and Senate conferees on the bill permitting discharged soldiers, sailors and marines to retain their uniforms and granting them five cents a mile traveling expenses from the point where they were discharged to their homes.

The Senate has passed the House bill directing the War Risk Insurance Bureau to resume payment of allotments to enlisted men of the army and navy, which it discontinued last July. Because of minor Senate amendments the bill was sent to conference. The cases of more than 20,000 men in the service are affected by the measure.

Private John Monson, of Paris, who has been in the thickest of the overseas fighting, going over the top with the American troops five times and participating in the last big battle prior to the signing of the armistice, has been heard from after a long silence. A telegram to his mother, Mrs. Charles Monson, of Paris, tells of his safe arrival at Newport News. Mrs. Monson was taken by surprise, thinking her son was still in one of the army camps in this county.

Capt. William Collins is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Collins, near North Middletown, having received his final discharge from the service. Capt. Collins recently returned from overseas, where he was with the American Expeditionary Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Kiser, of the county, have received information from their son, Corporal Emmett Dickson Kiser, announcing his safe arrival at Newport News, from France. He is now at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, awaiting the papers that will give him his discharge from the service.

After a silence of several months Edward Fitzpatrick, formerly a member of THE NEWS force, writes from Cuba, stating that he is stationed on the U. S. S. Mississippi, in Cuban waters, that he is hale and hearty, and hopes to be able to pay Paris a visit in the spring. This is the first message THE NEWS has had from our "sailorman" for many months. The last heard of him was contained in a letter from a shipmate, W. O. Pennington, who said he heard that Fitz had married a wealthy Philadelphia girl. Fitz has never written to confirm or deny the assertion. Here's congratulations from THE NEWS force, if the news is true.

Letter from Corporal Monson.
Camp Stewart, Virginia.

Feb. 18, 1919.

Dear Father:
I suppose you thought I was lost. You know I never wrote you for six months.

But I have arrived at Camp Stewart, Va. Send me about thirty dollars. I am thinking about coming home soon.

Dad, I want to tell you what a hard time we had whipping those Germans, and God helped us to save our country. We were among the first to cross. The first cannon I ever fired I found afterward killed a thousand Germans.

One time a bunch of us were cut off from supplies and surrounded by Germans. Almost starved we were about to give up when our Captain asked for two volunteers to go with him for help. Another fellow and myself volunteered. We were four days without food, and only had water out of a river mixed with blood. Well, the other fellow and myself started out and traveled about half way and it got too hot for us. The bombs were singing and buzzing, and the bullets were whistling past; airships were in flames in every direction. Oh, it was awful! Finally we could not stand it no longer. We dropped into a shell hole. I thought hell had been turned loose. We had no sooner hit the bottom than we found two live Germans to fight. Then we had a fight sure enough. We killed them both. We waited until about midnight when it got quiet again, except the Huns would get nervous every once in awhile and send a bomb over. But we could dodge easy. We started to run for help for we were not far from our own line, and soon 2 or 3 thousand troops started out again and the Allies won the victory and saved the company which had been surrounded. Then we had the Germans on the run and kept them on the run.

I will tell you more when I come. I have not told you one-third yet. How are all the family?
I close for this time.
Your dear son,
(Corporal) JOHN MONSON,
42nd. Coast Artillery,
Camp Stewart, Virginia.
P. S.—I will be home soon.

GETTING RID OF COLDS.

The easiest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract another cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger in this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.

YANKS SEE LITTLE HOPE TO RETURN BEFORE JUNE.

The announcement from Washington that the American troops in Northern Russia are to be withdrawn at the earliest possible moment in the spring was received with joy by the troops themselves, but official critics and also the Russian population are anxious to know whether other troops will be sent to replace them, or whether it means the communication is now closed except for ice breakers incapable of carrying a large number of troops, and, according to naval advices, June will be the earliest month for the opening of the ice floes.

The American troops affected by the announcement are the 339th Infantry and one battalion of the 310th Engineers, all draft forces entitled to demobilization after the conclusion of the war. There is considerable speculation in Archangel whether they will be replaced by regulars or marines.

DREADFUL COUGH CURED.

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olson, Marysville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."

IRON WAS TRIED.

Down at Smithland, in Livingston County, Ky., the farmers had a tractor school and demonstration. Those farmers who had tractors and those who were thinking of buying iron horses were on hand. They listened to talks and watched demonstrations; then the expert took the machine to pieces and the farmers put it together again.

STANDBY ARE SAFE

Seed catalogs are interesting reading now that the sun is swinging back toward the north. They, of course, list all the old standbys; but they also have a number of attractive novelties with exquisite illustrations in vivid colors. The farmer and his wife should by all means try some of the novelties just for the excitement of the game. However, the old, tried-and-true, standard varieties should be bought in quantity to furnish the backbone of the garden operations in 1919. Circular No. 67 might offer some timely reading matter on gardening just now when the garden fever is developing. A line to the College of Agriculture will bring it in the near future as it is now on the press.

HEADS WIN.

A big arm and a big stick used to win in warfare. Heads full of trained brains won in this war. Big muscles used to succeed in farming. Heads win in farming to-day. Heads are trained in high schools. They are given an extra polish in colleges and universities.

WASN'T TOO OLD TO LEARN

The scientific feeding of pigs is winning its way in the Trace Creek School district. Recently an old farmer of seventy-one, got up at a meeting at the school house and said: "I'm 71 years old and have fed hogs all my life, but I've learned more the last year watching Bessie Downing feed her pig than I've learned the seventy years I've lived. I thought that stuff about a balanced ration and all sorts of experiment business, was all bosh; but I've seen that I'm all wrong. I invite any of you over to see my two pigs that I'm feeding according to Bessie's instructions. I've got two real pigs and they ain't eating their heads off either."

HENS SHOULD DO DUTY.

Eggs are still a good price, so every hen should do her duty. The proper food will do everything in helping her to lay the eggs she should. "Feeding for Winter Eggs," Circular No. 66, gives balanced rations. The mere asking the College of Agriculture at Lexington will bring it at once.

The Germans may continue to sing the "Watch on the Rhine," but it will be a long time before they will be allowed to wind it up.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.
